A Part of Me

Tonight a tiny angel

Sleeps on my knees

She's only five years old

But her heart is bigger than the seas

Tonight our house is filled

With the sound of the angels' wings

She has so many more friends

In the skies than on the earth

Oh my daughter

You're my soul

You're my calm in the storm

All my dreams will come true

A Part of Me

Cause of you

You are a part of me

And the light of my eyes is you

When longing for Heaven I breathe in

Your scent anew

You're a part of me

And the light of my eyes is you

When longing for Heaven I breathe in

Your scent anew

You shine like the moon

And the stars revolve around you

You dream of a holy sun rising

And this dead world starting to bloom

A Part of Me

Oh my daughter

You're my soul

You're my calm in the storm

All my dreams will come true

Cause of you

You are a part of me

And the light of my eyes is you

When longing for Heaven I breathe in

Your scent anew

You're a part of me

And the light of my eyes is you

When longing for Heaven I breathe in

A Part of Me

The angels are talking about you

They know you have a mission on the earth

Hard and unique

I close my eyes praying for you

And softly kiss your cheek

You are a part of me

And the light of my eyes is you

When longing for Heaven I breathe in

Your scent anew

You're a part of me

And the light of my eyes is you

A Part of Me

Your scent anew
