God's Eyes

That was all you needed

Only some water to drink

But arrows were so thirsty

For your blood, more than I thought

How can I take you back

To your mother, my little son

Is there anyone to help me now?

Is there anyone?

One step forward, one step back

Shaking knees

This slight weight feels so heavy

But I will bear it

Only because God's eyes

God's Eyes

Are lovingly watching me

Only because of God's eyes

God's eyes

Only because God's eyes

Are lovingly watching me

Only because of God's eyes

God's eyes

Your body on my hands

And your blood ascends to the heavens

You're drowning in the light

And I'm drowning in the pain

Even though you're not

God's Eyes

Old enough to walk

Old enough to speak

No one could shout my heart's words

Better than your thirsty lips

One step forward, one step back

Shaking knees

This slight weight feels so heavy

But I will bear it

Only because God's eyes

Are lovingly watching me

Only because of God's eyes

God's eyes

God's Eyes

Only because God's eyes

Are lovingly watching me

Only because of God's eyes

God's eyes

Oh my heart! Keep on beating

Oh my heart! Don't break apart

Only because of God's eyes

Oh my heart! Keep on beating

Oh my heart! Don't break apart

Only because of God's eyes

Oh my heart! Keep on beating
